Product Features

Built for small business

The first family of Dell computers designed specifically for small business, Dell Vostro gives you the flexibility to choose exactly the PC you need - without the added costs you don't. Because when it comes to finding the right small-business computer, "full-featured" and "affordable" should never be mutually exclusive.

Big-business features for small-business budgets

Don't sacrifice the features you crave just to stay under budget. With the Vostro 3500, you get design, performance and productivity choices normally reserved for big-business laptops - at a price that's right for small business.

The security small business needs

Dell understands that data security isn't just a big-business problem. Dell has designed the Vostro 3500 with a range of options to help keep your small business protected every day.
